500 Women Will Meet on Thursday

Coming From 40 Counties To Attend One Day Short Course for H. D. Clubs of 2 Districts

Five hundred women from this immediate region and from as far away as Vernon and Snyder are expected to be in Canyon on May 6 for the Home Demonstration Short Course for Districts 1 and 2 at West Texas State College. The Short Course is sponsored by the Home Demonstration Division of the Extension Service, Texas A. and M., in co-operation with the Department of Home Economics at W. T.

Miss Orpa Dennis, Miss Elizabeth Cox, and Miss Fern Bowman of the W. T. Department of Home Economics are assisting with the program for the one-day short course.

The Short Course will open next Thursday morning at 9:30 with a reception at the college. Miss Ruby Mashburn, District Agent of District 1, headquarters at Amarillo, will preside at the morning assembly, opening in the W. T. auditorium at 10:30 in the morning.

Group singing, led by Mrs. Ullman Hunter of Castro County will open the program, followed by the address of welcome by President J A. Hill. The response will be delivered by Mrs. Blankenship, Potter County representative. Music by Miss Nancy Dawes of the college department of music will feature the program. The principal address will be delivered by Miss Milton Horton, Vice-Director of H. D. Work and State Home Demonstration Agent.

Agricultural Group Names Officers For The Ensuing Year

The Randall County Agricultural Association met at the court house Saturday, April 24, for the purpose of electing county officers for the year. The County Association is composed of delegates from each of the nine communities of the county. About 500 members have paid dues for the year, 1937, and are affiliated through the county and state organization with the National Farm Bureau.

Officers elected Saturday to serve for the ensuing year are J. P. Hix, chairman; R. B. Gist, vice chairman; L. B. Hammond, secretary and treasurer. Additional members elected to serve with the above officers to make up the full executive committee were Mrs. H. F. Ratjen and Mrs. John Haines.

Bessire Changed to Montana Doing Missionary Work

Rev. W. H. Bessire has been transferred from the Panhandle to Montana. He will leave this week, but his family will remain until school closes.

Rev. Bessire works in the missionary field of the Presbyterian church. He has been in the Panhandle territory for several years, and has many friends who regret to hear of the transfer. No announcement has been made by the church as to continuing the work in this section.

FORMER PASTOR DIED AT SHAMROCK WEDNESDAY

Rev. R. A. Stewart died suddenly at Shamrock last Wednesday evening. He suffered a stroke of paralysis at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and died at 6:15 in the evening.

Foster Buys Three Buildings on South Side of the Square

G. G. Foster has bought the three Heyser buildings on the south side of the square. The buildings are occupied by the Farlow Electric, the laundry, and Sid Frazee.

Some repair work will be done at once in improving the buildings states Mr. Foster.

Hospital Plans Being Completed By the Architect

Construction Is To Start Soon; Paving of Sixth May Be Set Up As WPA Project

Work will be started on the new hospital as soon as the detailed plans are completed. Dr. R. A. Neblett will construct the hospital on Sixth Avenue at 16th Street.

The architect in charge of the plans hopes to have the detailed plans and specifications completed within a short time.

Paving of Sixth Avenue in front of the hospital has not been taken up by the City Commission. The street was opened up for caliche, which was promised from the underpass, but it was later found by the contractor at the underpass that all of the caliche would be needed in completing this job.

A. A. Meredith, district manager for WPA, has suggested to the City Commission that Canyon will need a street improvement project for the coming fall and winter to take care of the men who will need jobs. It is likely that this paving will be included in the program to be started with the next period. The future of WPA depends upon the action taken by congress, since all projects will end with the fiscal year on June 30th. The city had planned to start a project of 64 blocks of street paving last fall, but other projects needed all labor available at that time, and this project was not put thru.

Psychology Class of W. T. Makes Field Trip State Hospital

A West Texas State College class in abnormal psychology, under the direction of Prof. J. L. Duflot, head of the department of Sociology, made a trip to Wichita Falls yesterday to visit the Wichita Falls State Hospital for Insane.

Six cars from Canyon, and one from Amarillo representing an extension class recently taught there, provided transportation for thirty-five students and their instructor.

Purpose of the trip was to make a first-hand study of typical cases of mental disorder under the supervision of a psychiatrist, Duflot said. A clinical lecture by Dr. A. T. Hanratta, consulting psychiatrist at the Wichita Falls institution, featured the trip.

The Wichita trip is an annual field trip for students of abnormal psychology at West Texas State College.

Wichita Brings a Special Train on Long Trade Trip

Canyon was visited yesterday by 125 boosters from Wichita, Kansas, who were on a long trade trip through the Southwest.

The train was met by many Canyon business men and the visitors brought down town. The band entertained the citizens while the business men visited in the various stores.

Many of the visitors were driven to the campus of W. T. and shown the extensive improvements which are under way. Many of them asked about the Palo Duro State Park and hoped to return for a visit there.

Work Sheets For 1937 Farm Work Will Be Signed

State Board To Review Papers After Completed By Farmers and Local Committee

The County Agent's office is busy this week preparing work sheets which are to be signed in the County Office during the next two weeks, according to the following schedule:

District 1, Monday, May 3; District 2, Tuesday, May 4; District 3 Wednesday, May 5; District 4 Thursday, May 6; District 5 Friday, May 7; District 6 Monday, May 10; District 7 Tuesday, May 11; District 8 Wednesday, May 12; District 9 Thursday, May 13.

All signing to be done at Court House. The final date for work sheets to be submitted to State Board is May 15th.

As soon as all work sheets are signed the County Committee will allot base acreage to each farm. It is expected that this will be finished during the month of May so that every farmer may know as to his base acreage as soon as possible. The co-operation of every farmer is needed to insure the assignment of final bases without delay.

There is no obligation incurred by signing a work sheet. The signing of a work sheet does establish eligibility to participate.

Wheat that is to be plowed up on 1937 diverted acreage must be designated by May 1, according to ruling just received. This is an extension of time from April 15th.

Carruth Tells of Rotary Convention Held at Childress

Irby Carruth attended the district Rotary Convention at Childress Sunday and Monday, and reported on the convention at the luncheon of the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday. Rotarians attending from Canyon were: Carruth, Harry Brown, Alfred Bellah, Bob Foster, Oscar Gano, Tom Knighton, J. B. Morrisset, W. H. McIntyre, Doug Shirley, and Bill Warren. Doug Shirley was on the program Tuesday morning.

Mr. Carruth stated that more Rotary Anns attended the Childress gathering than usual. He was impressed with the wonderful reception given by Childress people, and the civic pride shown in that town.

The Rotary Park in Childress and play grounds for children greatly impressed him, and he urged that something like this be started in Canyon.

Ed McLaughlin of Ralls, former W. T. student, was elected district governor.

Mr. Carruth was impressed with a talk given on Pan-American relations in which it was stressed that Latin Americans are suspicious of America; that while President Roosevelt was in South America trying to create a friendly spirit, England was signing treaties which mean more to that nation in trade than the United States was receiving.

The work of Rotary to preserve peace in Europe was having a great result, stated the speaker.

George W. Cox was introduced as a new member of the Rotary Club.

Visitors present were: F. A. Zimpfer, Dr. M. W. Cunningham and Robert B. Cartwright, all of Amarillo.

Lack of Rain Is Cutting Possibilities of Wheat Crop

Wheat has suffered greatly during the past week owing to the lack of moisture. No rain has fallen in Randall county, although both the north and south parts of the Panhandle received some moisture.

Friday was a very disagreeable day, with wind from the north bringing in clouds of dust. Most of the dust originated in the dust bowl of Colorado and was driven here by a high wind. Colder weather has prevailed throughout the week.

Country Scholastics Show a Decrease From Last Year

Randall county common school scholastic census has been completed, states County Judge Burney Slack, showing a decline of 20 over the census of last year. The total for this year is 512.

The scholastic census is taken annually and the district receives from the state $19 for each child enrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradford returned Thursday from Mineral Wells where they have spent several months.

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION

Unemployment is still the major problem of the administration. If unemployment could be solved, all of the petty trials and tribulations existing in the nation today could be easily settled. It is charged that many who have received relief will not get off the relief rolls for private employment. Why should they, unless permanent employment is actually offered and insured? Those who are offered only temporary jobs would likely not profit by the change, and would be untrue to the obligations they have for their family. Unemployment on wholesale scale is always a very hard job to handle. President Roosevelt has his share of grief and problems which cannot be settled in a day. Here is a statement from the monthly letter of a great financial house in New York for April: "It is something to ponder that, with all the unemployment and depression still existing in some quarters, the present output of stel, textiles, the newer types of household goods, and many articles used in the industries, is greater than ever before known; and automobiles will be on the list as soon as the labor situation permits." Think of it—greater production 'than ever before known," and yet the army of those without jobs and anxious to work stays around the nine million mark!

A constitutional amendment has passed the House of Representatives extending the term of office of all precinct and county officers to four years, and including members of the House in the provision. State officers are omitted from the proposed amendment. A mistake is made in the amendment in that it seeks to extend the term of present officers two years without an election. Those who favor the four years' term are expressing disapproval when it comes to making the constitutional amendment effective before the next election. With the increasing cost of primary elections, The News does not blame office holders from asking a four year term. However, a serious difficulty must be taken care of if the amendment is passed. Who shall pay for the primary elections which are held when county officers are now running? Under the Terrell election law, the local candidates must pay for all elections, but if they are elected for four years, and state officers are elected for only two years some arrangement must be made to pay for primaries when county officers are not to be named. Furthermore, primaries which are held without local fights usually draw only passing interest from the voters.

It is surprising how many people fail during their life time to make a will. Even careful and shrewd business men often neglect this very important means of taking care of the property for which they have worked throughout the long years. While some men may think that after they are gone the responsibility of caring for their property and their family is not their worry, yet a little precaution may save great embarrassment to those who are left, and save their estate from long legal proceedings. Making a will costs very little. In fact any lawyer will charge less for preparing a will than he would charge for one legal document attempting to settle an estate. Without a will, the cost of administertering an estate runs into hundreds or thousands of dollars before the beneficiaries realize what is going on. If you have not attended to the matter, in the name of good common sense, make your will, even though the estate you leave may be very, very small.

President Roosevelt is said to have expressed more concern regarding the dangers of inflation and another European war than in his present court reform battle. The President evidentally believes that he can have passed through congress some sort of a court reform measure, but feels rather helpless against the powers of inflation. The funny thing is that many, many people believe that inflation would be a good thing for the nation, overlooking the disasterous results that have resulted in other nations, and at other times in this nation. So far as the European war is concerned, this nation will do everything in its power to stay out of such a struggle. But it is feared that we cannot escape it. Woodrow Wilson thought he could keep the nation out of the World War, but we landed right in its big middle with three million men and 60 billions of dollars.

Veteran newspaper publishers of the Panhandle were amazed when they looked over the field of newcomers into this profession during the past two or three years. They noted the youthfulness of a majority who attended the association's convention in Amarillo. Youth is taking charge of the newspaper game in this section. The few grizzly heads who remain in the profession looked over the coming young men and women, and expressed pleasure that the profession was attracting such a fine bunch of young people. Having attended practically every session of the Panhandle Press Association during the past 25 years, the publisher of The News can express pleasure at the professional ability of those who are entering the field. These coming young men and women will do a better job than the older ones have accomplished. More power to them.

Newspaper publishers of the Panhandle were gloriously entertained Friday and Saturday in Amarillo. In spite of the dust storm which raged throughout Friday the attendance was very large. An interesting program was held throughout the two days. The people of Amarillo certainly provided lavish entertainment for the occasion, consisting of two luncheons, a dinner and floor show Friday night. The association was so highly pleased with the entertainment offered that the invitation to return next year was accepted in preference to the one extended by Lubbock. Panhandle publishers are noted over the Southwest as being among the most progressive, and the association gathering this past week certainly reflected the interest of the publishers in their business.

The Wagoner bill is no doubt a fine thing so far as labor is concerned. But the danger right now is in the radical leaders who are in charge of unions, and who are demanding a period of labor agitation which is fomented against the security of both labor and capital, and results only for the benefit of the promoters. When recovery started this nation on the upgrade, it was freely predicted that many strikes would be staged. Unfortunately the number of strikes was greatly underestimated. It was not believed that John Lewis would have the nerve to tackle the largest industry in the nation as he has. John Lewis has made a name for himself as a labor leader. Whether his leadership shall be for the benefit of laborers, remains yet to be seen.

The News had intended running a Clean Up. Paint Up Campaign this spring. But the dry, dusty weather has not been conducive to asking people to spread much paint, especially on the outside of houses. Members of the W. T. Housing Committee have requested all rooming houses to re-paper and re-paint the rooms for students before the opening of the summer session. There is need of much paint in Canyon. During the past six years many people have allowed their homes to stand without painting. Some are now in position to re-paint while others are not. With the first spring rain, it would certainly be a blessing to have all of the people of Canyon, who can possibly do so, start a painting campaign.

You usually find just about what you are expecting. The person who drives out to the Palo Duro expecting to see beauty comes away thrilled with the wonders which nature has wrought. When you meet a person expecting to find a friendly, sociable individual, your attitude is usually reflected in the attitude taken by that individual. Why do we not look a little harder for the beauty which surrounds us all of the time? Most of us cannot see the beauty of the rose because of the thorns which protects the beautiful flower. Most of us resist the friendship and sociability of men because we are afraid that we may be put to a little trouble in repayment of this friendship.

Cleaning all of the rubbish out of the streets and alleys before weeds start growing is another needed movement in Canyon. Weed cutting is hard under any condition, but when the weed patches are filled with refuse matter, it is almost impossible to perform. A clean-up campaign is greatly needed in Canyon.

MAN ONCE FRIGHTENED BY OIL ADS

CHANGES TO OIL-PLATING

In spite of everything, it paid him to take ads seriously, you see, else he might never have tried Oil-Plating. First of all he was impressed by the explanation of Oil-Plating.

Simple enough, if you'll think what happens as Johnny's dirty little hands touch the wallpaper. Anything greasy or oily on his hands becomes quite a permanent part of the paper. You'll say permanent!

In much the same way—forgetting technicalities—Conoco Germ Processed oil forms a lasting attachment for every working part of your engine. This union of oil and metal to produce a genuine, enduring Oil-Plating is brought about only by the Germ Process—patented.

Thus the Germ Process not only multiplies the strength of the usual flowing type of oil-film, but creates Oil-Plating besides. And once Oil-Plating goes on, Conoco Germ Processed oil does not let it come off in minutes, hours, days . . . or any number of miles.

Unable to run off while the car stands, Oil-Plating kills the old fear of starting "dry." Likewise Oil-Plating refuses to let go in all the fury of 5,000 revolutions per minute. That's why your "good old car" or the latest model will stay more like new, with its engine Oil-Plated. And your whole Summer's driving will take less Conoco Germ Processed oil. "Ol' Man River" Gets Face-Lifting Job Costing Uncle Sam $170,000,000

Gigantic Mississippi Channel Development Extends 600 Miles Between St. Paul and St. Louis

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Quietly, unobtrusively, "Ol' Man River" is undergoing a vast transformation these days.

Up here on the Mississippi, Uncle Sam is doing a face-lifting job that's making history—a $170,000,000 job project, if you please. And when it's finished, it'll rival the Boulder Dam or the TVA in scope and importance.

Since 1931 the federal government has been at this task, attempting to create a nine-foot channel down the "Father of Waters" to St. Louis. And the engineers are having exceedingly good luck, too. More than half of the dams now are practically ready for spring navigation.

To gauge the full importance of that, one must consider the immensity of this Mississippi project. It is a stupendous undertaking. It involves construction of 26 dams, will cost approximately $170,000,000 and will take many millions more to maintain. It will not be completed before 1938.

THROUGH the War Department, engineers are whacking away at this great river from the Twin Cities to St. Louis, mainly to accomplish three ends. These are:

1—Aid river navigation from the Twin Cities to the Gulf of Mexico.

2—Supplement flood control work on the lower Mississippi.

3—Control Mississippi river stages above St. Louis.

Obviously these goals constitute a real task. To insure a nine-foot channel along the 600 miles between St. Paul and St. Louis, the government is spending about $225,000 a mile. This includes all the major dams and locks in the 200-mile Minnesota-Wisconsin-Iowa sector, previously the most hazardous part of the Mississippi for heavy river traffic.

So far the completed structures along this route include the dams and locks at Canton, Mo.; Rock Island, Ill.; Burlington, Keokuk, Dubuque, Muscatine, and Guttenberg, Ia.; Genoa, LaCrosse, Trempealeau, Fountain City, and Alma, Wis., and Winona, Hastings, and Minneapolis, Minn.

Before 1938 engineers expect to finish the remaining 11 dams and locks under contract. These include work at Cap au Gris and Clarksville, Mo.; New Boston, Alton, and Quincy, Ill.; Clinton, Le Claire, and Bellevue, Ia.; Lynxville, Wis., and Red Wing, Minn.

Secondary work at or near these points includes clearing of timber from bottomlands, raising highway and railway beds which parallel the river for many miles, dredging and building earthen dikes, and miscellaneous construction.

AND what will become of the "Ol' Man" when all this work is finished? Topographically, he'll be a very changed personality. Instead of a narrow, shifting current cutting through wide bottomlands, the Mississippi will become a wide, shallow river. It will consist chiefly of a series of slackwater lakes, some 20 miles long and 10 miles wide, depending on the topography of the valley through which the stream flows.

Already these "lakes" are being used as new recreational attractions and the nine-foot channel work, aside from its original aims, should go far toward beautifying the entire Mississippi. Since the government controls all of the shoreline from Rock Island, Ill., to Nelson, Wis., it is expected to develop this area as a vast game refugee, thus further enhancing the river's properties. And it has many!

Above: Area of the Mississippi channel project. Left: a steamer passing through the new locks and dam constructed at Rock Island, Ill., at a cost of $7,000,000.

BY IRVING DIX

LOOK for another long-priced dark-horse to come thundering down the stretch to an upset victory in this year's Kentucky Derby.

The 63rd running of this blue ribboned classic of the Blue Grass country will be held at historic old Churchill Downs, May 8, and the stage is set for an outsider such as Bold Venture, last year's winner, to come romping in.

There are no truly outstanding horses in this year's field. The field, of course, is excellent but it seems balanced with no horse standing out to a great degree above the others. Because of this the betting will be spread out among the various entries and the winner will pay a longer price than usual.

Unless, of course, Pompoon, greatest money-winner of the 1936 two-year-olds, lives up to its promises and bags the boodle.

Pompoon, undoubtedly, will go to the post with the slimmest odds on the strength of its victory in the Paumonok Handicap. The turf experts went wild over the big son of Pompey when he fought his way out of a jam to overtake the fleet Tintagel in the last 50 yards.

But, although Pompoon closed strong with plenty to spare, it must be remembered that the Paumonok is only a six-furlong affair, while the Derby route is a grueling mile-and-a-quarter.

POMPOON'S chief rivals in the winter books have been Reaping Reward, No. 1 horse in the five-horse entry from the well-groomed stable of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars; Maedic, which won the most stakes in a single season in Saratoga history; War Admiral, a son of Man o' War; and Brooklyn, on whom Col. E. R. Bradley is pinning his hopes and part of his purse to win his fifth Derby.

For no real reason at all (there's no reasoning in racing, anyway), this observer has a hunch that none of these favorites will win, despite the fact that Derby history shows that 28 post-time favorites have won—or almost 50 per cent, which is a good percentage.

But it is this observer's hunch that they'll finish like this:

Court Scandal, Heelfly, and Pompoon.

Cherry Blossom Royalty in Capital

As the first of Washington's famed Japanese cherry trees blossom each spring along the Tidal basin, these youngsters prepare for the annual royal duties. Heading the ceremony this year are, left to right, Sakiko Saito, 10, Queen of the Cherry Blossoms; Barbara Caldwell, 10, attendant, and Masako Saito, 8, attendant to the queen.

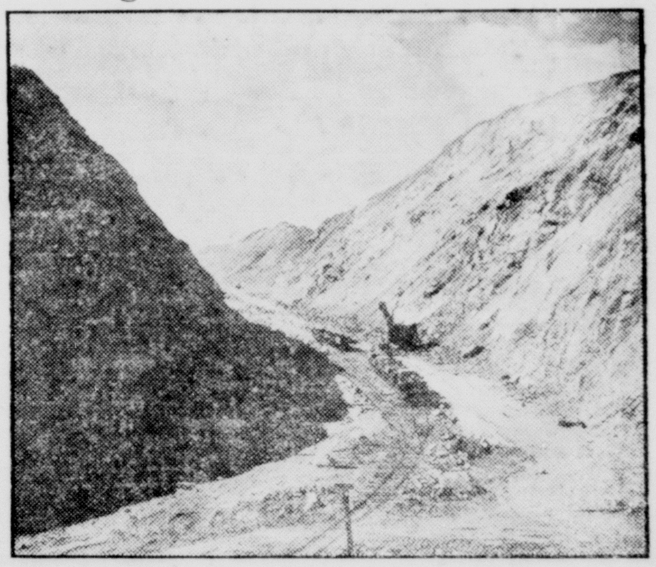
Bridal March—the Circus Way

This bridal march atop a giant elephant might not be all according to modern wedding etiquet, but it's circus style. The happy couple are Walter Shufflebottom and his bride, the former Cecily Rosaires, pictured as they were leaving the parish church at Billericay, Essex, England.

Blast Chimney, Flying Hazard

Many an aviator has grazed this chimney when attempting to land at Floyd Bennett field, New York. When officials recognized its danger, they blasted the 227-foot menace. New York's Mayor LaGuardia pressed a button that set off the explosives. Here the chimney is shown falling.

Moving a Mountain for Water Line



Construction of the All-American canal, America's largest irrigation ditch, which will carry water from Colorado into California, presents gigantic engineering problems, as evidenced here. While most of the ditch crosses desert, a portion runs through a range of rocky buttes. Here is a view of the work on Pilot Buttes, west of Yuma, Ariz. The capacity of the canal will be 15,000 cubic feet per second.

The First Lady Recalls Her Youth

Writing her life story in a leading national women's magazine, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt recalls the awkward age of her youth. Speaking of this age, as illustrated by the photograph above, the First Lady observes, "I was tall, very thin, and very shy. My grandmother believed in keeping me young and my aunts believed in dressing me in a way which was perhaps appropriate to my age, but not to my size. I wore flannels from the first of November until the first of April, regardless of the temperature. The high button or laced shoes were supposed to keep your ankles slim."

They Square Aweigh Early in the Navy

"Baby" of Congress Watches Diet

Responsibilities of the congressman are heavy these days in Washington and Representative Lyle H. Boren of Oklahoma, "baby" of the House, is keeping himself in trim for the job. Boren, now serving his first term, is one of the two youngest members of Congress. He is 27. He succeeded the colorful P. L. Gassaway. Boren is a Democrat.

Jackson Accepts Coaching Position In Flomot High

Leo Jackson, Captain and center of the football squad last fall, has accepted a position as coach and principal of Flomot High School.

Jackson is one of the five men on last season's squads who graduates this year.

Flomot played for the regional championship last year, and eight of the squad will be back to work under Jackson next fall.

Jackson was recognized as one of the outstanding centers in the Southwest. For the last three years he has held the All-Southwestern unlimited heavyweight championship in wrestling. He won his division in the district Golden Gloves tournament in Amarillo and fought in Fort Worth.

Washington story says drive on to put new front on capitol. Probably an idea for some congressmen, too, once this court affair is cleaned up.

Dumb animals are the ones that can satisfy their appetites without taking something to stop their misery.—Buffalo Evening News.

A Cape Ensemble That's Tops

No 1 favorites in the spring mode are cape ensembles. This one, worn by Gloria Stuart is made of feather-weight gray woollen, flecked in green and red. The padded collar and hemline and the striped edging of green and red around the lining of the cape are interesting details. Matching green accessories are worn with the ensemble.

They're Here Today---They'll Be Here Tomorrow

Not Like the Proverbial Flea---

"Here Today and Gone Tomorrow"

CONSIDER YE, THE FLEA AND THE BEE —HOW THEY OPERATE

The flea flits in, takes his fill of your good rich blood and leaves you only irritation and contamination in his wake—he is gone probably forever.

The bee also has the capacity to sting—but never does so except in self defense. He's too busy, too industrious.

He establishes for himself a permanent hive; he is part of an organized community of bees. He applies himself diligently to the gathering of rich honey and stores it into combs for the enjoyment and nutrition of mankind. What he gathers from your garden he returns to you in useful form.

CONSIDER YE, THE TRANSIT TRADER AND YOUR LOCAL MERCHANT

The former, like the flea, is here today and gone tomorrow and what he draws from you he takes out of circulation—away from the articles of local exchange.

Your town merchant, like the bee, stays on the job. He gives to you, and your community, the fruits of his industry and the fruits of your patronage. He lives among you; pays rent, pays taxes, contributes to community affairs and funds; promotes the commercial progress of your town, thereby making property more valuable; makes opportunity greater for your children and prosperity more sure for the entire populace.

And because he is permanent, he aims to make your patronage permanent—by selling only reliable goods, by according fair treatment to all and by extending a friendly, neighborly service as a foundation and a structure upon which he can perpetuate your good will.

Social Events of the Week

LATIN AMERICAN RELIGION AND CHURCH DISCUSSED

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Book Club yesterday afternoon, the program on the Church and Religious life of South America proved to be an extremely interesting phase of the study of the Latin American countries.

Miss Hellen Hickman read a paper on the Religious System of Our Latin American Neighbors; and Mrs. S. H. Condron's paper was a discussion on the Social and Political Influence of the Church.

A deferred paper by Mrs. Ed Harrell on the Newspapers of South America was read.

The Club chose as their next year's study "Art Through the Ages," as prepared by the college.

A resolution of respect was passed in memory of Mrs. Oscar Hunt, who passed away Tuesday evening. Mrs. Hunt was one of the first members of the Woman's Book Club and she belonged most of the time for 28 years.

HICKS AND CRAIN MARRY SUNDAY

Miss Betty Hicks, former student of W. T. and daughter of Rev. J. R. Hicks, pastor of the Baptist Church of Canyon, was married Sunday at high noon to Cristler Crain of Tell, Texas.

The simple ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Hicks, the father of the bride at the home of her parents, 1200 Third Avenue. Only members of the immediate families and intimate friends witnessed the wedding.

The bride was attired in a bright silk print dress with yellow accessories; she carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds. The house was decorated with lilacs and baby's breath.

Mrs. Crain has been teaching during the past year in the Tell Public Schools. Mr. Crain is engaged in farming and ranching with his father, S. B. Crain, also of Tell.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served to the couple and guests by the parents of the bride.

Mrs. Crain will continue to teach in Tell during the rest of the school year. The couple are at home in Tell.

LAS SENORAS NUEVAS CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. George Nance entertained the Las Senoras Nuevas Club and specially invited guests Wednesday afternoon at her spacious home east of Canyon. Tulips and spirea furnished beautiful house decorations.

Bridge was the chosen diversion during the afternoon with Mrs. Owen Williams winning high score prize at the conclusion of the games.

A dainty salad course with punch was served to the following who were present for the occasion: Mrs. A. W. Hawks, Mrs. J. Madison Daugherty, Mrs. Warren Johnson, Mrs. Owen Williams, Mrs. Newton Crain, Mrs. Levi Cole, Mrs. Hud Prichard, Mrs. R. E. Ball, Mrs. W. E. Miller, Mrs. M. E. Cantrell, Mrs. J. H. Rose, and Mrs. Tom Brasher.

PALO DURO CLUB STUDIES KITCHENS AND PANTRIES

Cabinet and cupboard shelves can be planned and arranged so that every article can be seen and reached with one direct motion. Miss Allie Dozier brought out this point in a discussion on cupboard and pantry conveniences at the meting of the Palo Duro Home Demonstration Club last Friday, April 23rd. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clem Dugan.

Refrigeration and ventilated pantries were also discussed by the demonstrator.

Refreshments of chicken salad on lettuce with bread and butter sandwiches, pickles, angel food cake and iced tea were served to the following: Mrs. Pauline Wendelken, Mrs. R. D. Finley, Mrs. E. P. Harding, Mrs. Arthur Albers, Mrs. W. G. Rose, Miss Dozier and hostess Mrs. Dugan.

The next meeting will be May 13 at the home of Mrs. Wendelken.

MRS. JOE BLACK HAS LOVELY CLUB AFFAIR

With a profusion of lilacs furnishing background in the entertaining rooms of her home, Mrs. Joe Black entertained members and guests of the 1925 Club Saturday afternoon.

A dainty plate of molded jello salad on lettuce, smacks, potato chips, cookies and coffee, was served by the hostess at the refreshment hour.

Those enjoying the occasion were Mrs. M. S. Bishir, Mrs. G. A. Farlow, Mrs. J. L. Duflot, Mrs. J. Madison Daugherty, Mrs. Owen Williams, Mrs. Warren Johnson, Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Mrs. Geo. Nance, Mrs. Lee Foster, Mrs. J. H. Rose, Mrs. W. C. Kunze, Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mrs. R. N. Barnett, Mrs. J. J. Walker, Mrs. Roscoe Davis and Mrs. H. M. Cook.

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS BY H. D. CLUB MEMBERS

To keep doughnuts from absorbing the grease, says Mrs. Pearl Nesselroad of the Highland Club, add a drop or two of vinegar to the dough in mixing.

If you are troubled with mites on setting hens, try putting ashes in the nest, says Mrs. W. G. Rose of the Palo Duro Club. Put the ashes in the bottom then make the nest of straw on top of the ashes and the hens will never be bothered with mites.

Mrs. C. L. Gordon-Cummings suggests to those who may have an old worn counterpane, to take the good part, cut to a convenient size, bind the edges, and appliqua tulips in harmonizing colors. These make good bathroom rugs and bath mats.

Mrs. Frank Simon of the Park Club has found that a mayonnaise mixer is fine for mixing flour and water for thickening gravies or sauces. This method prevents any lumps from appearing in the gravy and is much quicker than mixing with a spoon.

SIDELIGHTS

By MARVIN JONES
Member of Congress
from Texas

When the dust storms began anew in the Southwestern area a few weeks ago, Congressman Phil Ferguson of Oklahoma and I began a drive to secure special provision to combat the effect of these destructive winds. In this we were assisted by several other members from that area.

At first we endeavored to secure an appropriation similar to the one which made two million dollars available under my amendment last year. The Budget Bureau however, declined to approve an additional appropriation.

In making this drive, we found there was an unobligated balance of funds in the current soil conservation program. When attention was called to this, the Department and the Director of the Budget agreed to recommend that a sum not exceeding five million dollars of this balance be made available for a wind erosion control program planned especially for the Dust Bowl area of Texas, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The President has also approved such an allotment.

Congress must now act on the appropriation, and while the Appropriations Committee is reducing appropriations wherever practicable—and properly so—we nevertheless have hopes that this amount of the unobligated funds may be made available.

The program would be emergency in nature and would be in addition and supplemental to the regular farm program. It is intended to help farmers curtail the blowing of dust this season and next and lessen present losses.

The Department of Agriculture has outlined the provisions for this emergency work in the event the funds are made available. The main feature is the enlargement of the area of land on which wind erosion control practices may be carried out for payment under the soil conservation program. Under the present set-up, land diverted from general soil-depleting crops is eligible for payment if wind erosion control work is done. The new arrangement would provide that all the crop land in the Dust Bowl area is eligible for the wind erosion payment, if recommended practices are carried out.

If funds are allotted, a maximum allowance of 75 cents per acre will be provided for each farmer who participates in this program, and on practices completed before June 1, 85 per cent of the amount earned will be paid as soon as possible after their completion. The payments for the regular program will be made at the end of the crop season.

The practices which the farmer may carry out include several types of contour listing and furrowing and planting of cover crops. Any practices put into effect are to be approved first by the county committee.

An allowance of 25 cents an acre will be made for contour listing, and payment will also be made for certain other types of listing and furrowing. Fifty cents an acre will be allowed for cover crops seeded on the contour or in combination with certain types of listing. The allowance for other planting is 35 cents an acre. The cover crops in this instance are limited to sorghums, Sudan grass, or millet.

Britons complain coronation parade seats are only 18 inches wide which will be nothing compared to those in the Supreme Court if the bench is increased to 15 members.

Fiorella La Guardia, Mayor of New York: "Anyone who has handed out as much abuse as I have can take it."

Mrs. O. W. H. Cook and daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Stanfield of Amarillo, were here yesterday.

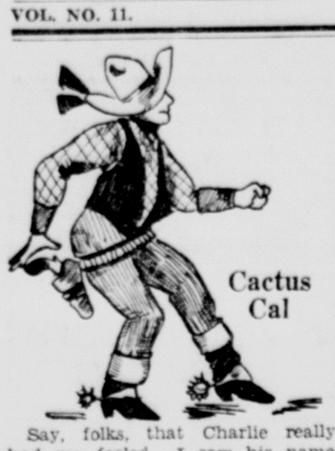
Meet 'Mama's Baby Boy'

THE EAGLE'S TALE

Come To Stunt Night!

VOL. NO. 11. CANYON, TEXAS, APRIL 29, 1937. NUMBER 31

FACULTY TO PRESENT "MAMA'S BABY BOY"



Say, folks, that Charlie really had me fooled. I saw his name pasted all over cars and everywhere in the Eagle's Tale, and I allowed as how it was gonna be a boy; but instead it was jest little ole Billy Greenfield. Wal, it was a pleasant surprise, and I like surprises. That whole cast sure strutted their stuff.

Somebody sure made a faux pas (betcha didn't know I knew that five-dollar word; I looked it up in the dictionary) when they started applauding right in the middle of one of the selections in assembly Monday morning. Well, that was such a fine program that I really don't blame the kids for getting so enthusiastic. Me, I'm in favor of more such.

Say, I never heard of so much going on as is slated for these last weeks of school. Looks like I'm gonna have to squeeze in some extra hours in the day, if I make everything I want to. Seniors gone to Carlsbad this last week; Home Ec. gals to Ft. Worth this week; faculty play and Press Club's trip to Austin next week; Spanish banquet the same week; art exhibit over to the grade school; junior-senior banquet May 15—whew, it's got me dizzy! With all these banquets, looks like maybe the F. F. A. boys'll get rid of some of their fryers. Personally, I'm doing what I can to persuade Miriah to buy three or four, since they are selling them to anybody who hankers for good fried chicken.

I sure hope all you seniors had a swell time on your trip, 'cause we really did celebrate while you was gone. Honestly, though, we kinda missed you.

Well, so long kids, and pleasant dreams. Yours til I quit wokring on the railroad. Cactus.

ARE WE SAFE—OR LUCKY?

"Pupils Aren't Fireproof," an article by T. Alfred Flemming, in Sunday's issue of "This Week" should certainly provide food for thought for every school board, superintendent, teacher, and school patron. Fleming, who saw 176 children lose their lives in the Collinwood, Ohio, school disaster, because an exit door was locked, points out that the reason more similar disasters are not suffered is mostly "dumb luck" since many fires and explosions occur when school is not in session. Locked exits and fire escapes; excessive storage of gasoline in the building; lack of knowledge of how to use extinguishers—these and other factors make the best building as nothing, since, as Fleming points out, while our buildings may be fireproof, "the contents aren't—neither are the pupils!"

Can this charge be brought against us? How many pupils and teachers know just how to use the fire extinguishers in the halls? How many times are fire escapes locked while classes are in session? Is there any possible hazard that has been overlooked, such as leakage of gas from gas cocks, oily rags in air-tight places, etc.?

"Oh," we say, "every possible hazard has been eliminated."

Yes, that's what was thought about the New London school, the Collinwood school, every other school that has suffered a like catastrophe. Have we escaped such disaster merely through "dumb luck"?

WE WANT BEAUTY AT SCHOOL

Do we want a beautiful yard for our school? Of course, the answer is "Yes"; but how can we expect it to be attractive if we as pupils persist in trampling the grass and in littering the grounds with paper?

Around the edges of the lawn, the grass has been trampled until it is practically gone; while in the center, it is still fresh and green. Why? Because some students have so little appreciation of beauty that a step or two saved means more to them than an attractive school ground that will give a favorable impression of our school to all who pass it.

We also have paper littering the grounds. Of course, we cannot prevent paper's blowing onto the grounds from surrounding lots; but we can do our part by seeing that we do not allow any paper to be scattered from the school itself.

We repeat: Do you want a beautiful yard for the school? The answer is up to you.

Representatives To Attend State Rally Held At Fort Worth

Representatives of the Junior Homemakers Club left yesterday for Fort Worth, where they will attend the State Homemaking Rally.

The club chose Mildred Shuman to represent them at the State club meeting.

At the time this article was written, no one had been selected to enter family relations and foods from Homemaking 3.

Gertrude Miller will enter flowers—arrangement and menu-planning. Dannie Stewart won second place. Flowers for the test were furnished by Mrs. Tandy, Helen Hurst, Dannie Stewart, Polly Cluck, and Mrs. W. H. Stroud.

Hazel Sanders will represent the second year class. She will enter menu-planning and kitchen-equipment. Dora Tucek was second in this contest. Those placing second do not attend the rally.

C. H. S. Band Wins High Honors In State Contest

The Canyon High School Band, under the direction of Mr. R. G. Stephenson, won superior rating in the official All-State band contests held at Pampa last Friday and Saturday. They were defeated by only the White Deer Band.

Grant Sharman won superior in trombone playing. He played a solo, "Kiss of Love," and won a medal.

Canyon entered Class C this year, having improved over last year when they entered Class D. The Canyon Band is at a disadvantage because most of the players are in the lower grades, but they have greatly improved in their playing because of their faithful work, states Mr. Stephenson.

In the sight-reading contest, Canyon was superior in playing a selection that they had never seen until three minutes before time to play it.

Hot dogs. Folks, you'll really see some action next Friday when the Seniors play next year's Eagles in the greatest, most thrilling, roughest grid game of the year. The Seniors are eating gunpowder and drinking nitro-glycerine so that when the great day comes they will blow up with a bang.

Next year's Eagles are a tough bunch of rannies who will be in better condition than the Seniors. They will probably call their game a little smoother and work together better than the Seniors, because they have been in spring training for quite a time. Don't miss this thriller. It will be worth your time to see it, because it will be a close, well-matched game.

Ping-pong seems to be the Jack of all trades around here now. The table is used almost constantly, night and day. It has not been decided who is champ yet.

Folks, believe it or don't, track season is over. Those mile-a-minute (for the first lap) men have retired until next year. "Bot" Rusk was really proud of that blue ribbon he was sporting Monday for having won first in the high jump. Keep up the good work, "Bot."

P. T. A. Broadcasts Over KGNC

The Parent-Teachers Association broadcast a twenty-minute program over station KGNC last Friday afternoon.

The Mother Singers, directed by Mrs. Harry Brown, gave two numbers, "The Cradle Song," by Brahms, and "Go Down, Moses," a negro spiritual.

A ten-minute playlet, "Father Forgets," written and arranged by Mr. H. G. Moore, was given by Mrs. I. B. Carruth and Mr. Moore.

Mrs. Lee Foster played two numbers, "The Glow Worm," and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise."

BOOK REVIEW

"Golden Tales of the Far West," a recent addition to our library, is a group of selected short stories, collected and introduced by May Lamberton Becker, who is now writing the book-review column of the Scholastic, and has written for the Saturday Review of Literature.

This book contains works of such famous and widely-read authors as Joaquin Miller, who wrote the short story, "The Man Hunt"; Frank Norris, represented by "A Bargain with Peg-Leg"; Mark Twain, whose "Millionaires," is included; Bret Harte, "How Santa Claus Come to Simpson's Bar"; Emerson Hough, "The Rubicon"; Stewart Edward White, "A Corner in Horses"; Owen Wister, "Sharon's Choice"; Jack London, "The Sun-Dog Trail"; and a few other authors who are less famous.

May Lamberton Becker gives us new material on the part of our country commonly known as "The Wild West." The settings of the different stories vary, some being in California, others in the Rocky Mountain regions, and still others on the Canadian border.

Mrs. Becker's commens before each story on the author and his contributions is not only a new line, but gives the book an additional interest.

Nearly all of the authors of "Golden Tales of the Far West" are widely read by students of Canyon High School, who will certainly be interested in this new type of short-story book.

This Is Not Just Fiction

The moon was full. The boy and girl were sitting just a little in the shadows, watching the stars. They sat there for quite a while, silently, hopefully, thinking of a thousand and one things. Maybe they were thinking of their future; maybe of a happy incident of days gone by; maybe each was planning their home. Love does such funny things to some people!

Suddenly the moon disappeared; the wind began to blow furiously. The stars went into hiding as heavy, black clouds quickly formed in the sky. The clouds got blacker and blacker; then a speck of dust fell and was followed by another and then another. Soon a furious dust storm was raging.

"Rats!" thought the boy, "this isn't so hot!"

"Rats!" thought the girl, "this isn't so hot!"

So midst a withering blast of dust and wind love's sweet young dream was ended. Such is life! Especially in the Panhandle!

Sue Terry, sophomore, visited Hazel Benton, a former student, in Kress over the week-end.

Meet The Seniors

Betty Ruth Solomon

Betty Ruth says her hobby is dancing. She likes a boy with humor, who is a good dancer, easy to get along with, and intelligent. Betty Ruth is planning on playing the piano in a big jazz orchestra. Pecan pie rates top with her in the line of food. Betty Ruth's favorite subject is English, and her "pet hate" is civics.

Viola Dooley

Viola says she thinks she might like to be a teacher, when she is older. As a hobby she has chosen reading. "Ice Cream" was her immediate reply when asked what her favorite food was. As her favorite type of boy, she wants a good-looking one, tall and dark. Viola's favorite subject is typing.

Jack Inman

Just for an appetizer, Jack chooses a big, thick, chocolate malt. His hobby is chasing rabbits at night, and he likes writing "Sport Shorts" for the Eagle's Tale. Jack's favorite subject is geometry and his pet hates are dust storms and silly girls. His favorite movie star is Harpo Marx.

Prentice McKee

Prentice, or "Mac," is one of our hard-working seniors, who runs a filling station. His favorite subject is bookkeeping. Mac doesn't have a favorite star, he likes 'em all. Hamburgers are his favorite food. His pet hate is whistling in Carlsbad Cavern. Don't ask why. As a hobby Mac chooses traveling.

Lillian Tate

Lillian says her favorite subject is home economics. As for a hobby, reading is the only thing. She wants to be a home economics teacher after she finishes her education. Lillian's favorite food is steak and gravy and mashed potatoes. Her pet aversion is gossip. Her nickname is "Snooks."

Pauline Harris

Pauline's favorite movie star is Kay Francis. She likes boys tall, with blond hair and a few freckles. Her favorite subject is home economics. Pauline's hobby is going to the picture show, and as for food she takes angel food cake. Thomas, her brother, seems to have forgotten her name, as he calls her "Sis" altogether. Her pet hate is to see boys smoking.

Mavis Harden

Mavis, or "Mac," says her favorite subject is civics and her favorite food is Jello and whipped cream. "Mac" thinks she would like to be an interior decorator when she is older. She is a Robert Taylor fan. Her pet hate is liars. As for a perfect boy, she takes one that is strong, with a good physique, black hair, good manners, intelligent, with a sense of humor and good personality. Mac's hobby is playing basketball; and by the way she really can, too.

Land Of Dreams Come True

A Utopia is a perfect or ideal state. The civics class gave their ideas along this subject, and here is one to think about.

I was busy working ten hours a day in one of the greasy factories in the eastern part of the United States and wishing that I was somewhere, where work wasn't so hard, when all of a sudden a belt threw off of one of the fast-turning wheels and bopped me on the konk and everything went blank. Then came a vision of a boat, and when I came to I found myself on the deck, a stoway, and was thrown into the ocean to swim or drown; so I swam to a piece of driftwood and floated for several days until an island floated into view and I landed safely on the shore.

The bay was crystal clear and there were several streams on the island. One of them branched off and came to where I was sitting, and I got a drink of the sweetest and clearest water I ever tasted. I was sitting there trying to figure out how to catch one of those delicious-looking fish in the water, when one of them flipped himself out of the water and plunked himself on the hot rocks and fried, and another one flopped up and kicked this one right into my hands and all I had to do was to eat.

Then I decided to build myself a cabin and started cutting some logs. All of a sudden the wind began to blow and blew the trees down, and before I knew what was happening the elephants had already built the cabin and the furniture of the best type, including a Frigidaire, a bath tub, hot water heater, and all of the modern conveniences. Then the wind blew the feathers off a duck flock and made me a feather bed. The fruits grew on a slope and as soon as they ripened they fell from the trees and rolled down the slope into my store-room. The more ripe ones squashed as they hit the ground and soaked into the earth and made natural springs of orange juice, lemon juice, pineapple juice, and apple cider and various other kinds of juices.

Among other things that happened around this place were the vegetables of all kinds that grew close to the pool in hot water. Upon ripening, they fell into it and cooked and this pool floated them around to my house. Various kinds of animals also floated around to my house, cooked, or fell on the hot rocks and fried and rolled to the house. This also applied to fowls.

Then all I had to do was to open my eyes and a bite of steak or chicken or whatever I wanted would plop into it, and my pet monkey would work my chin up and down to chew my food.

Then this vision stopped and I awoke and found myself again in this factory. Some one pouring water on me to revive me. I got up and bopped the mug for waking me out of my dream and made the foreman eat the belt and went home and tried to dream this again. And to this day I refuse to work.

High School Will Crown Queen At 8:00 O'clock Stunt Night

Her Majesty, the Queen!

Yes, tonight in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock, Canyon High School will crown a new queen for the school.

It might be Princess Katy Jean of the house of Black, sub-freshman; Princess Mary of the house of Bourn, freshman; Princess Sue of the house of Terry, sophomore; Princess Marie of the house of O'Donald, junior, or Princess Kate of the house of Donnell, senior. The way to find out is to be present tonight at the annual "Stunt Night" of Canyon High School.

Promptly at 8 o'clock stunts presented by all the clubs of the school will begin. Next, stunts by various town clubs will be presented. Prizes of $3.00 each will be given the clubs winning first place in the two divisions.

Immediately after the stunts, the Queen will be crowned in formal coronation style, with the other Princesses and their escorts as her attendants. "Stunt Night" with the coronation of the Queen, is Canyon High School's most colorful celebration of the year.

Escorts for the Princesses will be Prince Milford Tucker, subfreshman; Prince Billy Joe Hunter, freshman; Prince D. A. Butler, sophomore; Prince Billy Sternenberg, junior; and Prince Thomas Harris, senior.

Admission will be ten cents to all.

Seniors Spend Week-End In Carlsbad

With shots of joy and intense excitement, thirty - four seniors, with their three sponsore, Mrs. John B. Pope, Mrs. T. W. Collins, and Mr. Emil Hutto, and the bus driver, Jim Upfold, gathered Saturday morning in front of the school building, anxious to be off to Carlsbad, New Mexico. When Superintendent Irby Carruth had packed the bus to overflowing, Melvin Calliham drove up and announced that he was taking his car; so everyone got a place to ride and drove through town making as much noise as possible so that everyone would be sure to take time to miss them during their three-day absence.

The first mishap occurred between Clovis and Roswell. There was much singing and jolly-making, when suddenly someone shouted to stop, that a suitcase had been lost. After a while the car drove up to the bus and Willard Childers claimed the torn pieces of what was once a good suit case. After the grip was placed in the trunk of the car, the journey continued.

Carlsbad was reached about 7 o'clock. It was decided to stay there until about 9 o'clock, then to go to White's City for the night. Long before the time to go, most of the students wandered to the bus, tired and ready to find a place to sleep.

On Sunday morning almost everyone was out early and eating breakfast. At about 8:30 o'clock the group went to the cavern. The gate opened at 10:30 o'clock, but our group had to wait until near the last of the line before we could go. About 1 o'clock the group got to the dining room. After lunch the group divided and some went up on the elevator, but a large majority walked out so that more of the wonders could be viewed. The mouth of the cavern was reached at about 4 o'clock.

Monday morning a sleepy, tired group got their luggage packed and started home. When Carlsbad was reached everyone was hungry; so a thirty-minute stop was called for breakfast. On the road to Roswell, Pauline Moore got sick and was put in the car. No one could imagine what her trouble was, because she had eaten only a hamburger and a piece of pie for breakfast.

At Clovis a forty-five minute stop was made so that dinner could be eaten; the group scattered to various cafes and drug stores. Thirty minutes later members of the group began to enter the bus. About 1 o'clock the trip continued, not to stop again until home was reached. Everyone's eyelashes began to droop, and some of the noise was stopped. A while before 6 o'clock, the bus pulled into Canyon, everyone yelling so that it might be known the seniors had returned. The crowd broke and each went his own way.

So ended another senior trip to Carlsbad. From what various members of the class said, it seems that the trip was enjoyed by all.

Art Exhibit Beautiful And Educational

"Tell me what pictures hang upon his walls and what books are his companions and I will tell you what manner of a man he is," someone once said.

The art exhibit to be sponsored by the elementary school next week is a recognition of the fact that a knowledge and appreciation of art is an integral part of every child's education. This joy in line, form, and color was instinctive even in primitive man, and this fundamental love of the beautiful can be made a great uplift to the character of every individual.

Composed of one hundred fifty beautifully colored reproductions of both old masterpieces and modern paintings, the exhibit contains many subjects familiar to all lovers of art. "Little Maiden," by Renoir, French artist noted for his portraits, is a marvelous study of light effects. Rubens, the famous Flemish artist, is represented by "The Artist's Sons," which is a lovely representation of brotherly companionship. "October Days," by the American painter, Vincent, and "Autumn Gold," by Weiczerzick, German, are both full of the rich, warm hues, the cool, crisp feeling of autumn. "Where the Sun Goes" and "The Pueblo Indian" are among the prints of Robert W. Amick, American painter who is unequalled in depicting scenes of early life in the far West.

All funds raised from the sale of tickets, which will be ten cents each, will be invested in pictures for the school. The pictures will be in the study hall of the grade school building, and hours will be from 12:30 to 1 and from 4 to 6 o'clock each day.

The Play Will Be Given Wednesday Evening At 8:00

A rioutous evening of fun and laughter is promised by the Press Club to those who see the faculty play, "Mama's Baby Boy," which will be given next Wednesday evening, May 5 at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium, instead of Tuesday as formerly announced.

Centering around the efforts of Luther Long, a widower who is "not broke, but badly bent," to wed Mrs. Shephard McLean, a widow in similar financial straits, the play presents one ludicrous situation after another. Imagine what happens when both parties to the match try to pawn off their grown children as youngsters of twelve and thirteen; when the friends of the latter discover them in their "baby" clothes; when everyone, from the college friends of the young people to the grandmother and the colored maid, goes back to his childhood dress, to help carry out the hoax.

Mr. H. G. Moore plays the part of Luther Long, opposite Miss Ruth Greenfield as Mrs. McLean. Mr. Gerald Brown is Shephard McLean, "Mama's baby boy"; his co-sufferer is Miss Annie Ruth Eastus, who plays the part of Juliet, Long's daughter. Mrs. John Davis is the disgruntled colored maid who wants her salary. Miss Pauline Crittenden is Mrs. Blackburn, Mrs. McLean's sixty-year old mother who turns flapper. Miss Gwendolyn Black has the role of Mrs. Anglin, Luther Long's sister, a small-town matron who "loves to belong to clubs and things." Miss Virginia Jarrett, Miss Gladys McClanahan, and Mr. Gordon Beck play the parts of Shephard's young college friends. Mr. Milton Mroris is the breezy real estate salesman who saves the day so far as rMs. McLean's financial situation is concerned.

The Press Club is sponsoring the play to raise funds to go to Austin to the Interscholastic League Press Convention, May 7 and 8. Seventeen members of the club, accompanied by Miss Pauline Crittenden, their sponsor, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Pope, will make the trip in the school bus. Admission to the play will be fifteen cents for grade school children and twenty-five cents to all others, including high school pupils.

Smell This; It Nearly Takes Your Head Off

"Whew! What the deuce!"

"Hey, call the ambulance, quick. He's fainted."

"Who brought that stuff here, anyway?"

A fight? No, not quite. But you should have smelled that stuff that someone brought to school the other day. My, it was awful! Of course, it really wasn't "stuff." It was perfume. Even the boys wanted some, and they got it, too—all over their heads, their shirts, and the rest of them.

Now, I don't want you to take all this seriously, because it really isn't to be taken that way at all. As I have always said, "Never take a person's word for anything unless he has been to college." But since I am an old alumnus of Podunk Professional College, I ought to know about such things.

Oh, shucks, I'm awfully sorry about this rambling conversation—I mean, feature—but I've listened to my old friend Bob Burns so much on the radio that I've sorta got his habits. Oh, the perfume? Oh, yes! As I was saying, don't ever bring any perfume to this school if you want to keep it. I know two sophomores who would like to be smelly with the stuff. A certain Tommy says that he never takes any drink stronger than perfume, and then he just smells the bottle. Yeah, and he collects the bottle and the smell!

Well, the editor said she had to have a feature to fill up space; so since I was goat enough to write it, I'm glad you were chump enough to read it.

So you never gamble!

Do you ever cross the street in the middle of the block to save a minute or two? If so, you gamble the millions of minutes remaining in your normal life span against that inconsequential minute or two.

Do you ever take an occasional chance while driving your car? Ever pass another car on a curve or a hill? Ever exceed the speed limit? Ever pass a standing street car? Ever fail to signal before turning?

If you do take such chances, you are eleven times as likely to be killed or injured in a traffic accident this year as the holder of a sweepstakes ticket is to win even a small prize.

When you gamble in lotteries your stake is a few dollars at most, but when you gamble in traffic you bet your life.

postmaster until three years ago.

In addition to the husband, two nephews and two nieces survive: Clifford and Elpeon Reynolds of Los Angeles; Mrs. Neva Reynolds Dahlgren of Los Angeles, and Mrs. W. J. Winkler of Alpine.

Mrs. Hunt was a granddaughter of Bishop James Axley of the Methodist Church. She was reared in the religious atmosphere of this denomination, and has been a member since childhood. She took an active part in all of the functions of the church whenever her health would permit.

In the death of Mrs. Hunt, one of the leading pioneers of Canyon was taken from a very active life spent in community work. She came to Canyon when the community was young and when social events were few and pioneer in nature. She took an active part in everything that went on in the community to improve the social and religious atmosphere of the young town. Being of a cheerful spirit, she made many citizens happy who were suffering the hardships and privations of frontier days.

Mrs. Hunt was active in the organization of the Old Settlers Association in Amarillo, and served as its vice president. She was president of the Pioneers Club which was organized a few years ago by the pioneer women of this county. She was active in the Mothers-in-Law Club, being one of the organizers and was an officer since its founding. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star.

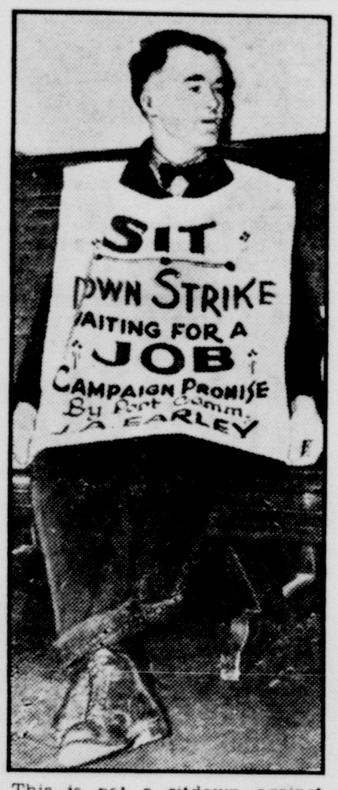
Sitdown on Job He Hasn't Got



This is not a sitdown against working conditions that P. C. McCartin of Seattle, Wash., is staging; it's a sitdown for that job he didn't get as a result of campaign work last fall in the election of Port Commissioner J. A. Earley. McCartin seated himself in the offices of the Port Commission, refusing to evacuate until he got work from Earley. But, with Earley out of the city, it looked as if a long wait faced him.

Man Overboard, but Who Cares?

This business of being coxswain for a collegiate crew is all right until the crew wins. He can spur, cajole, or even cuss his companions in an effort to drive them on to the goal. But if the crew wins—ah, there's the rub, or, rather, the duck. Victory gives the crew the privilege of tossing the coxswain overboard and here Washington's 1936 world champions have just tossed Coxswain Rosencranz into San Francisco bay after taking the University of California by four lengths.
